

Hello again from Quarantine! It's good to know the Lord! And man o man ..... that is no small statement. To be one of His .... it's an honor ..... and yes ... it's a privilege.

I have no idea who may read this. Whoever you are, I want you to know this thing with God, is not exclusive to any one group of people. God's not a respecter of persons. Meaning --- your bloodline doesn't matter. Your sinful past doesn't matter! The Creator of all that you have seen and know, wants Love perfected in our lives ..... for us all to be complete in Him..... ALL .... every last one of us..... no matter who you are, or where you've been. Don't know Him? Want to? Message me ... I will be glad to tell you how you can make everything right with the only one that matters.

Maybe you are reading this and you are a seasoned Christian. You've been living for Christ for years ..... I hope this devotion finds your fire burning strong. I hope you are passionate about what you have. I hope you are vocal about it. Are you excited?

"Take no thought ..... saying what shall we eat.....What shall we drink? ....." These are some beautiful words in the book of Matthew. Better yet, these aren't just words in a book, but an opportunity laid out before man to live a full life. A life with direction. Two scriptures later Christ tells us ..... "SEEK first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness ..... and everything else will be added to you..." He lays out a purpose, and let's us know the benefits. And as yesterday's devotion laid out, ".....His hand is not shortened", we can trust Him... we can count on Him. Seek first ..... lays out a purpose ..... along with an opportunity at an "abundant" life!

You don't doubt the sunrise ..... do you doubt the provision of God? What are your needs? ".....with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God" How many go without because they never ask? How many suffer because they look for the supply in the wrong place? The numbers are staggering I am certain. How often do the people of God suffer for a lack of knowledge?

"O fear the LORD, ye his Saints: for there is no want to them that fear him." - another powerful statement ... and another part of the recipe. You must have a reverent fear of God ..... there is benefit that comes with it..... No want to them. You may choose to ignore such things. It's the thing about God that stands out so clearly, He will not force you to follow. But without any doubt at all, He desires to supply your every need, both physically and spiritually..... and He will ..... IF you let Him!

God bless -- Pastor Paul
